Reconditioned sealed Czech-made Bakelite clock with white face

€350 + tax

This former slave clock was made by Pragotron in Prague, at that time the capital of Czechoslovakia. The design is based on Hans Hilfiker's acclaimed, clearly structured 1944 design for the clocks installed at railway stations in Switzerland with truncated hands and no digits. Fitted by a professional clockmaker with a new Junghans mechanism from Germany to ensure reliable operation, the clock consists of a sealed black Bakelite body with a white face featuring the typical 8 o'clock Pragotron logo and is supplied with a battery.
