Polished soviet light

€220 + tax

Two years ago, we got hold of a shipment of Russian factory lights made in the 1950s - and they sold like the proverbial hot cakes. Unable to obtain any more Soviet originals, we decided to meet the sustained demand by having our own exact copies produced at a small metal spinning factory in the region. Since they're made out of aluminium, they're extremely light. These lights come either polished or powder-coated in a choice of ultramarine, British racing green or light grey. Fitted with a socket for E27 bulbs, they're suspended using a stainless steel lifting-eye nut. Available in bulk. Please note: You can choose your own cord color and length!
