Porcelain lights for walls and ceilings with angled base | White globe

Small €75 | Medium €95 | Large €130 +

This simple yet timeless design can be traced back to the Werkbund movement, the Bauhaus and the resulting design currents. These lights were produced throughout the lifetime of East Germany. Note that flaws in the enamel and bubbles in the glass as well as discolouring in the base and glass are possible. The base comprises the body, the contact block and the thread for E27 bulbs. This version features a angled base with an opening for the connection of a power cable and white globe. We can supply three different sizes (S, M, L), mostly in sufficient quantities.
