Large polished 'turtle lamp' with protective cage for walls and ceilings

€280 + tax

This is one of our bestsellers, making it sometimes difficult to keep in stock. It was affectionately referred to by East German workers as the 'turtle'. Lamps of this type were produced in East Germany until well into the 1970s. This universal design was employed in almost all industrial sectors and the military. It comprises a solid ceramic E27 socket spring-mounted on a die-cast aluminium body. Thick protective glass fitted with a rubber profile is fixed to the body. In this version, the two sections are held firmly together by the screwed-on steel cage. Body and cage have been re-polished. A smaller version is also available.
