Article-ID DOG/2

Dog fur

€1600 + tax

This preserved fur of a large hunting dog features a stuffed head fitted with glass eyes. The rest of the body is flat and its underneath has been reinforced with linen, enabling the fur to be used as a bedside rug. The feet and tail have been shortened. Although nothing is known about the dog or how it died, it probably died naturally of old age and was then preserved on behalf of its master.
